Internet offers access to Illinois information

I spend several hours every day on the Internet. So eventually, I said to myself, "Self, you need to do a column about Illinois-related web sites."

Let's begin with my favorite web site, which just happens to be, ahem, mine. Now, before you start smirking, you should know that I don't make any money off of the site. There are no ads, except for one free banner that promotes a fight to save an online archive of song lyrics and guitar chords.

Anyway, it's at <http://www.capitolfax.com> and it's intended to be the definitive site for Illinois politics, government and media. As you might imagine, there's not exactly a lot of competition for that title, but, hey, it's still pretty comprehensive.

It also includes hundreds of links to reform groups, unions and special interest organizations. All of the web sites profiled in this piece can be found on the site.

United Press International has a great site: <http://news.excite.com/news/us/il/> that helps you keep up on state news as it's happening throughout the day—if you're into that sort of thing. Most events, large and small, are reported at that page.

If you want to find out exactly what was in a piece of legislation that was introduced in the last few years, you can go to:

www.legis.state.il.us/legisnet/legismain.html

The site is run by Legislative Information Systems, a state agency controlled by the General Assembly. All the info is free, which is a big improvement over LIS's high-cost, slow-connection dial-up service.

Public laws, legislative

Rich Miller

schedules, a copy of the state Constitution and the roster of General Assembly members can be accessed at:

www.legis.state.il.us/index.htm

The state government's home page is: www.state.il.us. All state agencies with web sites (which is just about every one of them) are there, as well as most of the local governments and all of the state's constitutional officers (governor, secretary of state, etc.).

You can look up all sorts of stuff on the agency sites, from reports on licensed professionals to the latest gubernatorial press release.

Want the latest list of registered lobbyists? Just point your browser at:

www.sos.state.il.us/depts/index/division.html

A move to put the lobbyists' spending reports (and legislative conflict of interest statements) online was blocked by the Senate Republicans this past spring, so don't expect that info anytime soon.

The Illinois State Board of Elections has a searchable database of campaign contributions at:

www.elections.state.il.us. The site costs $500 but is not easy to use.

I have yet to get it to work right on a consistent basis. The board people kindly offered to set up a training session for me, but the Internet is supposed to be easy to use. You can also find a well-constructed database of election results for the past few years at the site.

Another site with campaign finance information, www.opensecrets.org/il, is run by two "good government" groups, the Illinois Campaign for Political Reform (www.ilcampaign.org), which also has some excellent reports on fundraising issues and the Center for Responsive Politics (www.opensecrets.org), a national group with lots of info on federal campaign finance stuff.

Want to sue somebody and need a lawyer? Try the trial lawyers' association web page (www.atlanet.org). Tired of people suing at the drop of the hat? Find out what you can do about it at the Illinois Civil Justice League site (www.icjl.org).

Want to buy an Illinois State Bar Association sweatshirt? Then by all means get on down to: www.illinoisbar.org.

The latest polls can be found at two sites. One is mine (<http://www.capitolfax.com/polls.htm>) and the other is run by the Polling Report (www.pollingreport.com).

My site is a collection of links to pollsters. The Polling Report takes highlights out of polls and groups them by subject.

Lots of newspapers are on the web, and most have very good pages. You can get a list at either my site (www.capitolfax.com/media.htm) or at the Illinois Press Association's site (www.il-press.com). My site also has links to TV stations.

I don't spend all my time surfing through Illinois web sites. Whenever I want a good chuckle, I head to www.theunion.com. The Union is a parody newspaper based in Madison, Wis. The articles occasionally spoof Illinois politics ("New Illinois Makes Led Zeppelin Bumper Stickers Probable Cause for Police Search"), but this site is not for kids or the devout.

The danger of doing a column like this is I've left out a whole bunch of very good sites. So, I'll just apologize now and get it over with. If you have a personal favorite, e-mail me its address at: capitolfax@aol.com.

Rich Miller also publishes Capitol Fax, a statewide political newsletter. The preceding column, provided by the Illinois Press Association, does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the association or this newspaper.

Veterans Administration budget receives $825 million

House Appropriations Subcommittee's decision to provide more funds to the VA is nothing more than a carnival 'shell game'

By Butch Miller

Amidst the great debate on what to do with a trillion-dollar budget surplus, the House Appropriations Subcommittee's decision to provide another $825 million for the VA budget amounts to nothing more than the con artists old "shell game."

From the beginning of the budget process, The American Legion testified the VA needed $1.9 billion additional funding just to keep its head above water.

So how did the House deal with the obvious need for additional funding?

Pay close attention and see if you can follow the pea!

First, VA medical care funding was reduced by $2 billion.

Then the subcommittee restored $3 billion in "emergency" spending.

That's an easy pea to follow if you pay attention.

We all balance our own checkbooks, and it doesn't take a genius to clearly see that unless Congress adds an additional $1.1 billion to maintain the VA's current services, VA leaders will be forced to implement personnel cuts, terminate services and programs and ration health care.

The veterans' health care system is a national resource. Millions of veterans depend upon the system. Nearly 50 percent of the nation's doctors receive some of their training through medical school affiliations with VA Medical Centers.

In time of national disasters, the VA medical system is a backup for civilian hospitals. And VA Medical Centers lead the way in medical research for prosthetics and geriatric innovations.

Americans must not remain silent while Congress fiddles and the VA health care system burns.

Congress and the Department of Veterans Affairs must quickly implement the GI Bill of Health. This proposal would open up VA health care facilities to military retirees, their families and veterans over age 65 receiving Medicare.

Use of patient TriCare, Campus, Medicare and personal insurance would ensure a healthy fiscal operation of the VA system.

For our nation's military retirees and elderly veterans, the future of their health-care delivery system is questionable. Where will they turn for the quality health care they now receive? For many of them, the VA is their life-support system.

More than $1 trillion generated from the peace dividend played a large part in producing this budget. During the last decade, over 35 percent of DOD's military medical facilities have been closed and tens of thousands of former active-duty service members are now veterans. The GI Bill of Health can restore the promise so sadly broken.

It is time for Congress to add another $1.1 billion to sustain the current level of VA health care. It is time for the U.S. Senate to add the needed funding to the VA budget.

Failing that, a House-Senate conference committee will be America's veterans last hope to obtain needed funding for the VA budget.

The old "shell game" is fun at the county fair, but it has no place in budget posturing by our elected representatives. If an inadequate VA budget is left to stand, the actions that will have to be taken will leave many veterans with nowhere else to go, except home to die.

That is not an option.

Butch Miller is national commander of the 2.7 million member, Indianapolis-based American Legion, the nation's largest wartime veterans organization. His home is in Woodbridge, Va.

Letters policy

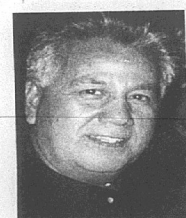

The Press-Record encourages its readership to voice their opinions on current issues by writing a letter to the editor. Letters must be no more than 350 words and include your name and city. Also include your telephone number, which will be used to confirm authorship and will not be printed.

Letters may be edited for clarity and space limitations. We will attempt to publish letters in the order we receive them. We will not publish any letter we deem libelous or defamatory.

Missouri is thinking of asking Illinois residents to help finance the renovation or the rebuilding of Busch Stadium. This would mean a new tax added to us; how do you feel about that?

"I think the owner should be responsible for any kind of attention they five Busch Stadium. I think we pay enough taxes already."

Mercie Mendaza, 58

"I think it is unfair of Missouri to ask Illinoisians to help rebuild their sports center. Maybe we could ask them to help us build a youth center for our kids."

"How can that be? Surely Missouri can support their own sports stadiums. Lower the salaries of the teams. The public can hardly afford to go to the games now."

Eve Loman

Crash kills Pontoon woman

No charges filed; incident still being investigated

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

A Pontoon Beach woman was killed the evening of Aug. 5 from injuries she sustained in an auto accident.

Ruth Hogue, 72, of 41 Mallard Drive in Pontoon Beach, died at 4:48 p.m. Aug. 5 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, according to a spokesman from the Madison County coroner's office.

Authorities said her husband, Harold Hogue, was driving a 1990 Oldsmobile south on Illinois 111. As he turned left onto Pontoon Road about 4:40 p.m., he struck a pickup truck driven by Gerald Fromme, 56, of Wood River. Pontoon Beach Police Det. Charles Luehmann said Hogue apparently made the turn when the light was green, but did not yield to oncoming traffic.

No citations were given. Harold Hogue was transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Information about his condition was not released as of Tuesday; Pontoon Beach authorities are not sure if Fromme sustained injuries or was hospitalized.

The crash is under investigation by Pontoon Beach police detectives.

Venice man arrested in assault

Man with long record faces 105 years in prison

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

Edward Baker, 35, of 200 Kerr, Venice, was charged

Monday with two counts of criminal sexual assault and one count of burglary.

He could receive a combined sentence of 105 years for the charges. Bond was set at $500,000 by a Madison County judge. Baker allegedly sexually assaulted and robbed a 63-year old woman the morning of Aug. 5 at a shop on State Street. Authorities said he entered the building about 7:30 a.m. and allegedly threw the woman to the floor, where she was sexually assaulted. Before he fled, he allegedly stole about $2.50 from her purse and $30 from the cash register.

He was apprehended on the corner of Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard about 8 a.m. Friday as he tried to flee police. He was caught about two blocks from where the incident occurred.

Granite City Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said Baker was identified by a woman from one of many police composites attributed to businesses in the city.

Baker served five years for a 1984 rape conviction that in Madison County. He has an extensive criminal history.

"This was a case we had to solve quickly because of his past," Ruebhausen said. "I'm proud of the work done by the department."

Fire destroys Pine Street residence

Family forced from home; damage estimated $20K

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

A home in the 2400 block of Pine Street in Granite City sustained severe damage late Thursday evening in a fire after several explosions ripped through a garage connected to it.

Three persons at the residence were not injured.

The explosions occurred around midnight. The fire was brought under control about 3 a.m. by firefighters from Long Lake Fire Department, with assistance from the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department.

According to authorities from Long Lake, a man living at the residence was welding his pickup truck in the garage when sparks from a welding torch ignited gasoline leaking from the truck or from a gas can inside the garage.

The truck became engulfed in flames, which spread quickly to the house, causing an estimated $20,000 in damages. Authorities said several propane bottles exploded in the garage, as well as several gasoline cans.

Jennings named new emergency director

By Val McDowell
Staff writer

Anderson Hospital in Maryville has a new director for its emergency department. Truly Jennings of Granite City began working as its Emergency Department director July 26. Jennings, who held a similar position at St. Anthony's Health Care Center in Alton, where she worked for nine years, said she is excited about the position.

"I've been involved with Anderson through various hospital committee's that I've worked with for a long time. Anderson has an excellent reputation."

"It is becoming busier because of the excellent quality of care they provide. I'm very excited to be here," she said.

Beverly Farm officials fail to show up for proposed session
Union claims officials acting in contempt of court

By Linda N. Weller
Staff Writer

Representatives of AFSCME said they were disappointed but not surprised that Beverly Farm Foundation officials failed to attend a negotiation session scheduled for Wednesday.

"We had about 40 workers hoping and waiting for the employer to come, but they didn't," said Buddy Maupin, regional director of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Council 31.

"We had about a five-year history of acting above the law, so I can't say I'm surprised they continue to break the law," Maupin said.

AFSCME has been on strike against the home, 6301 Humbert Road, since July 9 after failing to come to a contract agreement.

On July 28, Beverly Farm Foundation's attorney, Ross A. Friedman of Susman, Schermer, Rimmell and Shifrin LLC in St. Louis, wrote a letter to Maupin informing the union that Wednesday's meeting would not be held.

The letter said that because 242 of 325 union members crossed picket lines at the home for developmentally disabled adults, "Beverly Farm has good faith reasonable doubts about the union's majority support."

Friedman's letter also cited lack of support for the union as evidenced by a petition drive to decertify AFSCME as the home's bargaining unit.

The petition and a slew of complaints from both sides are awaiting investigation by the National Labor Relations Board. The complaints of unfair labor practices are putting the decertification process on hold until those charges are investigated.

Maupin said the investigation of charges alleging contempt of court orders against Beverly Farm executive director Monte Welker has been moved from the St. Louis office to the NLRB's general counsel's office in Washington. Maupin said that location change should expedite the complaint process.

After receiving the letter from Friedman about the meeting's cancellation, Maupin said AFSCME filed a complaint with the NLRB, asking that Beverly Farm be held in contempt of court.

On Monday, Maupin faxed a letter to Friedman demanding a negotiating session for Wednesday.

"Failure to do so on your part will undoubtedly result in the imposition of civil penalties for contempt against Beverly Farm," Maupin wrote.

Steve Patsaros, human relations director at Beverly Farm, said he and Welker are not in contempt of court.

Bill takes aim at resale of heavy ammunition

Armor-piercing bullets called all-too available

By Deborah Bates
Staff writer

U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin and U.S. Rep. Rod Blagojevich have introduced a bill to outlaw the resale of military surplus armor-piercing ammunition, including 50-caliber ammunition, to civilians.

A report by the General Accounting Office showed that 50-caliber ammunition is some of the most destructive and powerful ammunition available in the country.

The Military Armor Piercing Ammunition Resale Limitation Act of 1999 will permanently restrict military surplus armor-piercing ammunition to be resold to other government agencies and to law enforcement agencies. "The Pentagon official who released hundreds of thousands of rounds of armor-piercing bullets for sale on the streets of America should have his head examined," Durbin said.

According to a GAO investigation, "The ammunition is designed for military uses, such as destroying vehicles, aircraft and bunkers at long range."

"Armor-piercing ammunition has no place on the streets of America and the Pentagon certainly shouldn't be in the business of enhancing its availability," said Blagojevich. "I have no desire to acquire them so I've never looked into it," said Brian Carpenter, owner of The Gunsmith Shop on South Main Street in Troy. The ammunition is refurbished and resold in the open market.

City Campus to meet a growing demand for quality training in the area.

The new program was developed following a pledge of more than $800,000 from Illinois Gov. George Ryan carved from the state's recent IllinoisFirst funding package.

Jim Moore, director of BAC's Industrial Training Center, said that the addition of Automotive Repair to the ITC's curriculum will help create a well-trained labor force in the district.

"Nearly 150 new automotive body repair jobs are created annually in the greater St. Louis area," Moore said. "It's an occupation that also is projected to grow substantially in the coming decades."

The new program, which was approved earlier in the year by the Illinois Community College Board and the Illinois Board of Higher Education, will offer an associate of applied science degree in Automotive Collision Repair Technology and certificates in Non-Structural and Structural Repair, Automotive Refinishing and Mechanical Systems.

Plans include the construction of an 11,000-square-foot building at GCC. The automotive complex will house a 6,500-square-foot, state-of-the-art body shop, two classrooms, an auto storage area, outside work area and office space.

Letter: Venice must follow Meetings Act

taken steps to terminate Dougherty's contract, and a hearing is set for Friday.

In the letter, McGuire said that it was his opinion that the board did violate the act by having the July 13 meeting proper public notification.

He said the Act requires 48 hours notice for a special meeting. An "emergency" meeting can be held if it is a "bona fide" emergency.

McGuire said that a written response from Edwards stated the meeting was held to discuss personnel and legal matters.

Personnel matters which may be discussed in a closed session include hiring, firing or disciplining employees. Legal matters must be pending, probable or imminent litigation either against or by the board.

McGuire said there is no record of any pending litigation between the district and Dougherty and because he was not able to view the minutes of the closed meeting.

McGuire could not determine if there was probable or imminent litigation.

He also said the main focus of the complaint was not the subjects discussed, but the board's failure to make proper notification.

"On the basis of the information you have provided me, I cannot agree with your conclusion that the circumstances leading to the meeting of the board on July 13 constituted a bona fide emergency," McGuire said in the letter.

"On the basis of the information you have provided me, I cannot agree with your conclusion that the circumstances leading to the meeting of the board on July 13 constituted a bona fide emergency."

John McGuire

Assistant Madison County State's Attorney

The letter said that it was the responsibility of the board to comply with the act, and that while they cannot be expected to know all the provisions of the act, they should have at least a passing familiarity with its most important provisions, including the 48-hour notice requirement.

He also said that litigation does not constitute an emergency because the process simply does not move fast enough that a public body's ability to defend itself in a civil case would be compromised by a delay of two days.

He also cited a newspaper article quoting acting Superintendent Robert Vickers as saying that he knew the meeting was a violation, but recommended that the board go ahead with it.

Vickers said at the time that Edwards had advised them that it was an emergency meeting that needed to be held.

McGuire also said there had been a number of other complaints alleging violations of the act, including:

On June 29 and July 6, the board went into executive session to discuss "student issues" relating to non-resident students.

He said that issue does not appear to fall into any of the allowed reasons for executive session.

The board routinely goes into executive session to discuss virtually all substantive business.

Board members met July 7 to interview Vickers as a temporary replacement for Dougherty without proper notice being given.

That it is "virtually impossible" to hear board discussions.

When it goes into executive session, the board forces the public to go outside the building.

"This letter should be considered to be the warning by the State's Attorney to the Venice School District...that no future violations of the Open Meetings Act will be tolerated," the letter reads.

The letter also said that the proceedings of the Venice School Board would be "under a microscope" for "the foreseeable future."

Neither Edwards or Vickers could be reached for comment.

Cloverleaf residents protest annexation sewer system.

"Groundwater saturation is a concern for the whole area," Hamm said.

Hamm said putting in the new force-main sewer system would not cost homeowners anything or increase taxes. However, he said residents might have to pay for the tap-on, including a $50 inspection fee, but that the city is trying to work something out.

The cost of the sewer line would be paid by tax increment financing money.

The area would be included in a proposed residential TIF district, which also includes East Madison and the proposed new fire station at the old Madison Junior High School site. The focus of the TIF would be to provide infrastructure, such as sewers.

East Madison would also be included in the new sewer system, and Hamm said they had been waiting until Cloverleaf was annexed and the TIF was in place before going ahead with plans.

Although residents will pay slightly higher property taxes, probably an average of $50 more annually, he said services should make up for it.

Another reason for the annexations is the upcoming census. Because grants, state fund allocations and other revenue sources are based on population, bringing in more residents will give the city a bigger share of or a better chance of obtaining those funds.

After some discussion, Stogsill and other Cloverleaf residents said they still didn't want to be annexed.

Relations between the subdivision residents and the city have been strained at times.

In 1986, many residents opposed plans by a developer to put a wood-powered electrical generating plant next to the subdivision. A combination of changes in state law and an adverse ruling by the Illinois Pollution Control Board killed that project.

Granite school settle discrimination claim the gym. Another will be used interchangeably when needed.

"The board feels that the modest changes serve as a vindication to earlier charges that the school district practiced gender discrimination between male and female athletes," Granite City School Superintendent Steve Balen said in a press release.

Reader's complaint stated that the boys baseball team had a fenced-in complex on school grounds, complete with a scoreboard, dugouts, a PA system, restrooms and bleachers that were maintained by school personnel.

On the other hand, she said, the girls played their softball games at Sykes Field in Wilson Park, where they had the use of one dressing room.

Reader said earlier, a handful of parents signed a petition in 1998 in which they asked the school district to build a softball field on school grounds.

The board reacted, she said,

"The board feels the modest changes serve as a vindication...that the school district practiced gender discrimination..."

Steve Balen

by saying the construction of a field was feasible through land the district could have donated off school property.

When the board evaluated construction costs, Reader charged, a decision was reached to drop the project.

Officials: Economic law levels playing field

Regional Commerce and Growth Association have worked on this for many years, along with virtually every other (Metro East) economic development agency.

"The amounts of the incentives keys off employee pay rates and comes in form of tax credit," he said. "It levels the playing fields in terms of incentives between Midwestern states."

He said a recent example of that was the efforts of the Tri-City Port Authority to convince Con-Agra to locate a major soybean processing plant in the district.

The company decided to locate the plant in Indiana and told local officials it was because that state offered an incentive plan similar to the one to be signed by Ryan.

"Tri-City worked really hard with state and put together a very impressive proposal to Con-Agra," Pennkamp said. "The bottom line on that decision was that Indiana had an EDGE program."

"When it comes down to two sites of equal advantage, the company is going to go with the site that offers the greatest incentive."

The bill was sponsored locally in the Senate by Frank Watson, R-Greenview, and James Clayborne, D-East St. Louis. House sponsors were Tom Holbrook, D-Bellefonte, Jay Hoffman, D-Collinsville, and Steve Davis, D-Bethalto.

Choats come up short of medals in SGA

But Granite City duo enjoys experience in inaugural event

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

Two of Granite City's best bowlers took on the competition from across the country in this past weekend's State Games of America, held at St. Claire Bowl in Belleville. Unfortunately for both, the Steel City came out of the event Sunday without a champion.

Randy Choat competed in the men's 20-54 scratch division with high hopes for gold. Choat got a taste of the style he will see if, as hoped, he is able to join the Senior PBA Tour next year.

"It was called the TV format," Choat said. "The fourth-place bowler goes against the person in fifth, and the winner takes on the third-place bowler, and it goes from there down to No. 1."

Choat ended the qualifying round in second place and stayed in that position until the quarterfinals, where his loss to the third-place bowler ended his run at gold.

"I was OK until the last game," Choat said. "I came into the match 100 pins ahead of the guy in third place. Anybody can win a one-game match. The guy I lost to was excellent - most of the rest of the bowlers struggled a lot. When those guys put the ball on the lane they can make it as easy or as tough as they want to."

"I wanted a shot at the top guy. But the guy I lost to moved inside. It was where he seemed most comfortable and it seemed to work."

Tristan Choat, Randy's son, came up short in his bid for gold in the 13-19 age group. All the bowlers shot eight games on Friday, after which the field was cut in half. Tristan survived the purge and ended the competition Saturday in fifth place, but rolled a couple of subpar games Sunday and finished in ninth.

"Tristan was in the scratch division, and as it turns out, he would have ended up in second in the handicapped division," Randy Choat said. "We messed up. We should have put him in the handicapped division, but Tristan wanted to try scratch."

"There were a couple of glitches, but overall it went pretty smoothly."

True gets back into swing after a relaxing summer

Metro East Lutheran grad prepares for challenge of walking on to team at Illinois State University

By Bill Hester
Correspondent

It's back to business for Collinsville golfer Joe True.

True, who was a three-time qualifier to the IHSA Class A golf tournament during his high school career at Metro East Lutheran, woke up at 4 a.m. last week to drive to Bloomington for a tournament.

It marked the conclusion to a summer in which True took some time away from tournament golf.

"I went with a relaxed approach this summer," said True, who graduated from high school in the spring. "I still kept practicing, but I didn't play a whole lot of tournaments."

True won the first tournament he participated in this summer, taking the top spot in the 18-hole Optimist Qualifier at Tamarack in late May.

He also played in the Publix Qualifier, making the cut after the first day before missing the final alternate spot by four strokes.

True maintained his practice regimen while working as a cart attendant at Far Oaks Golf Course in Caseyville.

But he didn't even take his golf clubs with him on a recent trip to California.

"I decided to go to Illinois State and try out for the team there. There are going to be no guarantees."

Joe True
Metro East Lutheran graduate

"I went out there for eight days and just enjoyed the weather," True said. "I went at the right time. I went while it was so hot here and it was only about 65 degrees in California."

True's mother learned of the tournament in Bloomington, which was being played on the home course of Illinois State University - where True hopes to play golf in college.

True heads to Normal later this month to begin preparations for his freshman year at Illinois State, which is an NCAA Division I school.

"I had some offers from some junior colleges and NAIA schools," said True, who had a career best 20th-place finish in the state tournament as a junior. "But I decided to go to Illinois State and try out for the team there. There are going to be no guarantees. But I'm going to go out there and just give 110 percent and see what happens."

Padders settle for second in SWISA meet

Summers-Port wins fifth consecutive association crown

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

The waves crested and crashed at the Paddlers Swim Club last Saturday as the

Granite City club hosted the SWISA All-Club

Swim Meet.

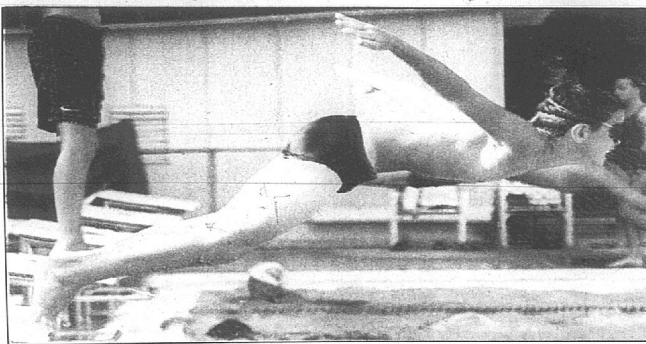

But the host Paddlers fell to reigning champion Summers-Port, of Godfrey, and had to settle for second place. Sunset Hills took third and Montclair fell into fourth.

"The kids swam very well," Paddlers coach Celeste Furmanek said. "We had all the kids make finals, which was a big accomplishment. A lot of the kids had their best-ever times in a meter pool, some in the mornings, some in the afternoon. It rained, so there was a lot of stopping and starting, which was hard to deal with."

"Overall they did great. Some of the relay teams won and that was a big surprise, a fun surprise."

Emblematic of the charge was Rachel Clark, who took second in the 11-12 girls group.

"Rachel swam the 50 free, the 100 IM, and the 50 fly," Furmanek said. "She did well. She is one of the top kids in the 11-12 group, and she also is an excellent diver. She is just a fireball kid who hates to get beat."

The same could be said of the Paddlers swim team en masse. The Paddlers have taken a back seat to Summers-Port for the past five running in the SWISA meet. But the swimmers from Granite City never gave up the ship in their charge for first.

"I was just extremely pleased with the kids," Furmanek said. "We had a lot of new kids and they did really well. It's exciting to look forward to next summer and their chance of making the championship team. We had a couple of 7-year-olds make the championship team, and that is exciting. Also, we didn't have any 18-year-olds who will be leaving, so we have a lot to be excited about in looking forward to next year."

"Everyone improved their times over the course of the summer, and that's what it's all about. I never say to them

"We have to beat this team or that team." It's all about self-improvement, and these kids did that this year."

Summers-Port also topped Paddlers in the SWISA Diving Championships (See Page 2B for results) and won the relays title during a perfect season.

"We were undefeated in dual meets and we won the championship," said Summers-Port coach Connie Collman. "That's a great feeling and I am awfully pleased with the team."

NASCAR Craftsman Truck Series comes to Gateway next week

Testing session will be open to fans Wednesday

Race fans can get an early peek at the NASCAR Craftsman Truck Series' top trucks - and a chance to meet the drivers - as they get ready for the Missouri-

Illinois Dodge Dealers Ram Tough

200, presented by Pepsi on Aug. 20.

Dodge has set up an open test for the NCTS trucks on Wednesday, Aug. 18 - two nights before the second running of the Ram Tough 200 under the lights at Gateway. Dodge and NASCAR have agreed to allow the test to be open to fans from 5-8 p.m., and Gateway will hold an autograph party with several of the series' top drivers from 8-9 p.m. in the picnic area behind the main grandstand on the oval.

The cost is a donation of non-perishable food items to Operation Food Search, which helps feed the hungry in 20 counties in Illinois and Missouri.

Gateway's season-ticket holders will be admitted free to the test session with a letter being sent to them this week.

Fans should come to the main track entrance with their food donations or invitation letter and they will be directed to the designated parking area.

"This is the time of year where food banks all around the country are in serious need as they seek to do their good work," Gateway general manager Rod Wolter said. "Gateway is happy to have the opportunity to help with this fine cause."

"For this race, fans in this area get a chance to see this facility, the NASCAR Craftsman Truck Series and these fine drivers up close. Those who see the competitiveness of the trucks, and the fan friendliness of the series, get hooked on this brand of NASCAR racing."

The NASCAR Craftsman Truck Series is heading into the stretch run with a points battle unfolding between current leader Greg Biffle, who has won five of the last eight races; former NCTS champion Jack Sprague; and Dodge drivers Stacy Compton and Dennis Setzer. Setzer has won two of the three races Biffle hasn't won in the past 2½ months, and Compton is only 35 points

Briddell takes long road to Lake Land

Despite several offers, Collinsville graduate can't find proper fit at Division I school

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

Cheryl Briddell's sports career follows a storyline any daytime soap opera producer would appreciate.

Filled with twists and turns, her journey to Lake Land College may require a pencil and a pad of paper to keep score at home.

Briddell graduated from Collinsville in 1998 and earned a Division I scholarship to play volleyball at Troy State University in Troy, Ala.

That's the easy part of the plot. "I was playing volleyball at Troy, but I did not necessarily like the coach, and then I didn't think I liked going to school in the South," Briddell said. "I thought it was too small and I wanted to go somewhere bigger. And I still wanted to play volleyball."

So involved with practice, games and school, Briddell did not have time to make friends. Briddell informed Troy State coach Ginger Lowe of her intentions to leave the team at the end of the school year. Lowe then released Briddell from her scholarship.

"After having that time off from not playing volleyball, I actually made friends and liked it there," Briddell said. "I didn't want to leave the school, but I didn't want to play volleyball. I wanted to see if I could play for the soccer coach."

Because she gave up a full-ride scholarship that her father, Don, was able to get for her, Briddell was told she would have to earn another scholarship or pay for school herself.

Then the dilemma began.

Briddell convinced the Troy State women's soccer coach in a tryout.

"I had a 45-minute (soccer) practice in the morning," Briddell said. "The (soccer) coach put me through a whole bunch of drills. At one point it was kind of funny because he said, 'You are going to have to calm down.' Then he said, 'You actually have a good reason to be freaking out because you have to determine your fate at Troy State in 45 minutes.'"

"He was concerned I hadn't played soccer in a while, but he said, 'I can tell you are a good athlete, and it appears you could be a good soccer player.'"

The coach could only offer Briddell a partial scholarship, but it was a start. Briddell made the 10-hour trip back to Maryville, arriving late in the evening. She woke up the next morning at 5 a.m. to make the trek to Memphis for a tryout with the volleyball squad.

She met with the assistant coach at Memphis and later had a one-on-one interview with the head coach. After meeting with the coach for 30 minutes, Briddell was offered a full ride to the university.

"She told me, 'I want you to be 100 percent sure that is where you want to come. If you want to come here then you have a full ride,'" Briddell said. "I didn't necessarily think I would like playing for her... When I left I decided I would go back to Troy State."

In a 24-hour period, two Division I schools had offered Briddell scholarships in two different sports.

Briddell accepted the partial scholarship to Troy State to play soccer, but when she began the process of signing up for classes, sticker shock hit.

Briddell decided she did not want to go into debt at such a young age just to be close to the friends she made at Troy State.

She quickly called her parents and opted for the junior college route. Within a few days she had invitations from Lake Land College in Matteson and Illinois Central College in East Peoria.

Briddell and her mother, Becky, would visit Lake Land at 10 a.m. and then visit ICC at 2 p.m. on the same day. By the end of the day, she knew Lake Land was for her and accepted a full-ride volleyball scholarship.

"All of my (high school) friends think I'm crazy for switching again," Briddell said. "I'm feeling much better now. I'm especially surprised and grateful I got a full scholarship somewhere."

After a season at Lake Land College, Briddell hopes to choose a Division I school - all over again, but with less adventure.

Canull's Collinsville mark for TDs still running

By Bill Hester
Correspondent

Records are made to be broken. But one area mark has stood the test of time. In this instance, the time has been a half-century.

Warren Canull scored 24 touchdowns for the Collinsville High School football team in the 1948-49 school year. No player in the next 50 years has surpassed that number.

"I'm surprised the record has held up through all of the years," said Canull, who still lives in Collinsville and follows Kahoks football and basketball teams. "I was fortunate to play for a good coach (Vergil Fletcher), who always had the best interest of his players. I had a great offensive line, and the team was very good."

That year's Collinsville team fell just short of a perfect record. The Kahoks lost just one game (by a single point) and also posted a tie.

The captain of that team, Canull had two five touchdown games in that season.

"In that era, you played all of the time," Canull said. "You played every minute of every game."

Canull was only 5-foot-9 and weighed 165 pounds at the time.

"I guess I was fast enough to keep the hounds off of my heels," Canull said. "We played a 1-formation on offense, and I was the right half."

Despite playing halfback, Canull called all of the offensive plays for the Kahoks.

As the captain of the team, Canull escorted the queen for the annual Football Coronation. That was no problem. Canull was already dating the queen. He would eventually marry Peggy, and they are to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary next season.

Canull, who was born in East St. Louis, has lived in Collinsville since he was 9 years old.

Gateway hosting NASCAR Truck Series

behind Sprague and 83 behind Biffle with seven races to go.

Two-time defending series champ Ron Hornaday will be looking to change a run of bad luck and finish the season strong. He will be at Gateway along with other NCTS standouts Jimmy Hensley, Joe Ruttman, Randy Toisma, Jay Sauter, Andy Houston and St. Louisan Mike Wallace, who has two wins this season and finished in the top three in his last two starts.

The NASCAR truckers will be supported during the Ram Tough 200 by the NASCAR Re/Max Challenge Series late model stockers, who will run a 40-lap sprint race just before the trucks take the green flag at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 20. Practice and Bud Pole qualifying for the trucks will also be Thursday, August 19, with the truck qualifying set for 6 p.m.

Tickets for the Ram Tough 200 Presented by Pepsi can be purchased at the Gateway ticket office, area MetroTix locations or by calling 1-888-82-SPEED.

Those who come to the test night on August 18 can obtain coupons good for 2-for-1 discount on lower-row race-day tickets - or two tickets for only $25. Those coupons are also available at area Missouri-Illinois Dodge Dealers and at Pepsi displays at area Wal-Mart locations.

Tri City

The NASCAR Busch All-Star Tour Late Models roll into Tri-City Speedway on Saturday for the ninth annual Quaker State 50. NASCAR features 12 touring series that include NASCAR Winston Cup. The NASCAR All-Star Tour, the only dirt series, compete in 18 events at selected NASCAR tracks in the NASCAR Winston Racing Series.

More than 40 of the best late model drivers from Midwest NASCAR tracks will compete on the 1/2-mile track at Tri-City Speedway for over $20,000 in posted prize money. Drivers include 1998 National Champion in the NASCAR

Winston Racing Series Ed Kosiski, current Mid America Region points leader Gary Webb, current NASCAR All-Star Tour points leader Ray Guss Jr., all-time winningest tour driver Steve Kosiski, and St. Louis' own Kevin Gundaker.

Tickets are on sale now. Adult reserved seats are $20. General admission seats are $18. Children 5 and under get in for $5. Parking is free. To order tickets, call (314) 947-7287.

Though neither of the Choats captured a medal, both were satisfied with their experiences at the inaugural State Games of America.

"I think everybody really enjoyed it," Randy Choat said. "There were a couple of glitches, but overall it went pretty smoothly. It was fun. We got to meet new people and make friends. Our event seemed to go really well."

The event, which is open to qualifiers from state amateur games throughout the nation, is slated for its second run in 2001 in St. Louis.

Reinger-offers soccer camp this weekend in Collinsville
Joe Reinger, three-time most valuable player for the St. Louis Amateur soccer team, will host a soccer school 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Aug. 14 at the Collinsville United Soccer Fields for boys and girls from ages 6 to 17. For information, call 345-5093.

Mon-Clair awards banquet slated for Sept. 5 in Cahokia

The Mon-Clair Baseball League's annual awards banquet and golf tournament is set for Sept. 5 at the Prairie Fire Golf Course in Cahokia.

The four-person scramble golf tournament will be 1-6 p.m., followed by a social hour in the clubhouse. The awards banquet and hall of fame induction will be 7-9:30 p.m.

The cost is $50 per person and includes green fees, draft beer and soda during social hour and banquet and buffet-style dinner. Advance payment is not necessary, but reservations must be made no later than Aug. 20.

This year's inductees to the Mon-Clair Hall of Fame are Scott Posey, John Asselmeier, Bob Matzenbacher, Joe Mehallow, Mike Toenjes and Dennis Merick.

For more information, call Mel Patton at 476-1265.

Hockey league

In conjunction with USA Hockey and Missouri Hockey Association, the Cahokia Ice Rink and Moss Enterprises has formed the new Cahokia Recreational Hockey League for children ages 8-12. All games will be held at the Cahokia Ice Rink.

The team program consists of two evaluation hours and 20 games. There will also be a "Learn to Play" session each week. The fee is $155 per child for team play and $155 per child for Learn to Play. The program is on a first-come, first-served basis.

For more information, call the Cahokia Ice Rink at 337-9521.

Skating program

The U.S. Ice Sports Complex in Fairview Heights will offer its "Back to School Skate" program from Aug. 31 to Oct. 6.

The program features seven half-hour classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays for children ages 4-5, seven 45-minute classes for ages 6 and older, six half-hour classes on Saturdays for ages 4-5 and six 45-minute classes on Saturdays for ages 6 and older.

The cost for Tuesday and Thursday is $66.50 for the 45-minute classes and $52.50 for the 30-minute classes. The cost for Saturdays is $87 for the 45-minute sessions and $45 for the 30-minute sessions. Classes meet once a week.

The fee includes one free practice in the public on the day of the lesson, one extra free practice in a public session during the week and two guest passes. Skate rental on the day of the lesson is free; at all other times it is $1.50.

Registration begins Aug. 2 and continues through the start of the season. Registration is in person only at the ice complex, 125 S. Ruby Lane. For more information, call skating director Gina Randazzo at 398-4600.

Golf tournament

The annual Kahok Golf Classic is Aug. 20 at Arlington Golf Course in Granite City.

Proceeds of this event benefit Kahoks athletics and the scholarship fund.

The cost is $75 per person in the four-person best-ball scramble. There are three flights. Registration is 10:30 a.m. with a noon shotgun start.

For more information on the Kahok Golf Classic contact Phyllis Waltemire at 344-2889 or Bob Bone at 344-7364.

Golf tournament

The fourth annual Lil and Roy Jenkins CHS Memorial Scholarship Hockey tournament is slated for Sept. 25 at Belk Park in Wood River.

The cost is $75 per person or $300 per team. There are two flights.

Prizes will be awarded for the men's and women's longest drive and three separate closest to the pin holes. First prize is $500. Second prize is $200.

For information call Chuck, Cookie or Kim at 345-9372.

Volleyball tryout

Volleyball tryouts at Grigsby Middle School will begin from 9 a.m. Aug. 18 at the Grigsby gym for all incoming eighth-graders. Seventh-graders will join the tryouts Aug. 19-20 at the same time and location.

Students trying out must have a current physical from their doctor and a parental permission slip.

Permission slips will be available in the Grigsby school office beginning Aug. 16 or may be picked up and signed on the first day of tryouts. Students may not stay for tryouts if they do not have these two documents.

Participants should come prepared to play with suitable gym shoes, T-shirt and shorts. Seventh-graders should have their names on their shirts.

Volleyball coaches for the 1999 season are Connie King and Judy Collins.

7. (7) Dale Earnhardt	IROC champion
8. (9) Rusty Wallace	Eighth is where he finished
9. (8) Terry Labonte	Finished 11th, started 12th
10. (—) Ward Burton	Deserved better than sixth

FROM LAST WEEK

WINSTON CUP SERIES

Dale Jarrett dominated the Brickyard 400, leading 117 of the 160 laps. It was Jarrett's fourth victory of the season, tying him with Jeff Gordon and Jeff Burton. He stretched his point lead to a whopping 274.

BUSCH GRAND NATIONAL

Jason Keller won for the second time this season, and third time of his career, by taking the series' annual stop at Indianapolis Raceway Park. The Chevrolet driver also won this race in 1995.

CRAFTSMAN TRUCK SERIES

Another week, another victory. Ford driver Greg Biffle has become one of NASCAR's hottest drivers and the undisputed man to beat whenever they crank up the engines in a SuperTruck race. Biffle Setzer spin to win at IRP.

FUD OF THE WEEK

Geoff Bodine vs. Chad Little

It's open season on the Bodine family. First, Todd ran afoul of Dale Earnhardt Jr. at Pikes Peak in a Busch race, and now Chad Little fires back after being bumped in a Winston Cup race at Indy. "I got hit by a bald-headed cue ball, as Little E put it," said Little. "I was kind of holding my own, but what can you say? Everyone's got to give and take."

NASCAR This Week's Monte Dutton gives his opinion: "The incident initially caused an incredulous response in the Brickyard infield hospital. 'What? You got hit by a cue ball? On the track? How could that happen?'"

WINSTON CUP SERIES

Coming up: Frontier at the Glen
Where: Watkins Glen (N.Y.) International (2.45-mile track), 90 laps/220.5 miles
When: Sunday, Aug. 15
Defending champion: Jeff Gordon

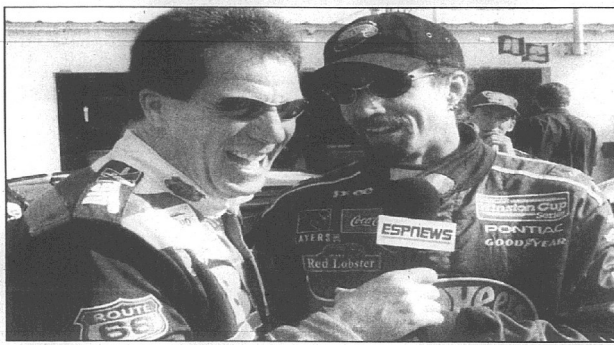

Qualifying record: Dale Earnhardt, Chevrolet, 120.733 mph, Aug. 9, 1996
Race record: Mark Martin, Ford, 103.030 mph, Aug. 13, 1995 Notable: This is the second and final road-course event of the season. ... Jeff Gordon swept the road races last year and could do it again. ... Buck Baker won the first race here in 1957. ... Gordon has won the last two races at the Glen, and Mark Martin won three straight from 1993-95. ... Martin remains the only three-time winner. ... Gordon, Rusty Wallace and Ricky Rudd have all won twice. ... Martin was second last year, fifth in 1997 and third in 1996. ... Dale Jarrett's fifth-place finish last year at the Glen was a career best.

PROFILE

Darrell Waltrip

Darrell Waltrip, left, downs around with Kyle Petty.

By Monte Dutton
NASCAR This Week

One of NASCAR's all-time greatest, Darrell Waltrip, announced last week that he will retire at the end of the 2000 season.

It's been a long dry spell for Waltrip, who last won on Sept. 6, 1992, at Darlington. For nearly seven years, he has been searching for career victory No. 85, which would break a tie with Bobby Allison for third place. Even so, Waltrip is the winningest active driver and has been since Richard Petty's retirement at the end of 1992.

AGE: 52
HOMETOWN: Born and raised in Owensboro, Ky., lives in Franklin, Tenn.

WIFE: Stevie
CHILDREN: Jessica Leigh (11), Sarah Kaitlyn (6)

CAR: No. 66 Route 66/Big Kmart Ford Taurus, owned by Carl Haas and Travis Carter
RECORD: 772 starts, 59 poles, 84 wins, 276 top-five finishes, 390 top-10s, nearly $18 million in career earnings

FIRSTS: Start (May 7, 1972, at Talladega), pole (July 18, 1974, at Nashville), win (May 10, 1975, at Nashville)

HOW CAN YOU GET EXCITED ABOUT RETIRING? "It's difficult because I still love driving a race car, but I think this is going to be a prototype for retirements. Everyone gets to participate. I've done things in my career that are almost too good to be true, and I hope this is going to be one of them. But when I tell you next year is my last year, it's not easy to do. I'm running out of next weeks, and that's the bottom line."

DO YOU STILL THINK YOU CAN WIN A RACE? "I believe Travis Carter, Carl Haas and Kmart can provide me with an opportunity to win a few more races. It would be a farce if we called this a victory tour and didn't get a victory. Winning a race now would be as big as winning that first one in 1975."

IS ANOTHER VICTORY SOMETHING YOU'D LIKE TO GIVE YOUR CHILDREN? "That's right. Jessica saw me win several races but she was very young. Sarah was still in the hospital when I won the race at Darlington. Speedvision and ESPN have done a great job (by showing old replays) of giving me some credibility with my family."

Your Turn

Letters From Our Readers

Dear NASCAR This Week, While having lunch at a local pizza shop with my son and his 4-year-old daughter, Cori, we were discussing the latest NASCAR race and our favorite drivers. My son stated, "Cori has a favorite driver," and he whispered to me, "It's the McDonald's car." He then asked Cori, "Who's your favorite driver?" Cori responded, "Ronald."

Tom Tatham
Weston, Ohio
P.S. Sorry, Bill!

Dear NASCAR This Week,

I hate NASCAR. I can't stand it. People forget too easily how the fans get treated and how the people in NASCAR act. Can't you remember when the drivers went on strike and the owners brought in replacement drivers? No, I guess that was the NFL. How about the strike that ended the season early? No, that was major league baseball. How about the time that driver spit on a track official? No, that was baseball, too. Well then, how about the time the owners locked out the teams and the season didn't start on time? ... No, that was the NBA. What about the driver who attacked his crew chief twice in one day, was let go, sued to get his job back and still drives today? ... No, that was the NBA also. What about all the fights? ... No, that's the NHL. What about the drivers who decided not to go to their practice sessions and didn't race because they wanted to renegotiate their contracts? No, I guess that was the NBA, MLB, NFL and NHL.

Come to think of it, I love NASCAR.
Stevan Bull

Who's Hot... Who's Not

■ HOT: Well, maybe not exactly hot, but Ricky Rudd did finally get a top 10 finish.

■ NOT: David Green started third but was out of the top 10 by lap 20 and finished 20th.

Trackside Trivia

- Who was the crew chief when Bobby Allison won his only Winston Cup championship?
- Who won the Winston Cup title driving for Blue Max Racing?
- Who was the first car owner to win three consecutive Winston Cup titles?

1. Gary Nelson in 1983
2. Rusty Wallace in 1989
3. Junior Johnson, 1970-78

Fan Tips

■ Bob Evans Restaurants, in conjunction with Talladega Superspeedway, is holding a $100,000 sweepstakes in conjunction with the Winn-Dixie 300 ARCA race on Oct. 16. One fan will win it. Showna Robinson becomes the first woman to win a race at Talladega. Fans who purchase a ticket by Sept. 27 via the track's Web site (www.talladega-superspeedway.com) or ticket office (256-362-7223) will be entered.

Blessed event arrives for Whitworth family

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron (Christina Watson) Whitworth are announcing the arrival of their first baby, a son named Tyler Lee, at 8:28 p.m. on Aug. 7 at Anderson Hospital in Maryville. He weighed 6 pounds, 8 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Roybn Campbell and Everett Watson; great-grandmothers are Dorothy Watson and Maxine Green; and the great-grandmother is Lucille Martin.

Paternal grandparents are Tom and Kathy Whitworth; great-grandparents are Mike and Juanita Mooney and Roy Burns; and great-grandmother is Loretta Wrigley.

Maxine Green

The youth group of Pontoon Baptist Church enjoyed an ice cream social last Saturday evening at the church.

Games were played and ice cream and cake were served to Melissa and Dee Owens, Andrea and Laura Craig, Ashlee Schenke, Natasha Buckingham, Amy Shipley, Terra and Emily Falter, Laura Lee Falter and their leader, Gus Falter.

Dr. Mark Hawkins and wife, Jamie and their daughter, Amanda, of Bolingbrook, and William and Debbie (Hawkins) Oehler and their daughter, Heidi, of St. Louis County were recent weekend guests of their parents, Dr. Hubert and Helen Hawkins. One highlight of their visit was a tour of Union Station. Mark Hawkins told them he was at Union Station in 1942 when he boarded the train, leaving for the Army.

The ladies of Pontoon Baptist Church meet at 9 a.m. until noon at the church on Wednesday mornings and usually have lunch. They would like for more ladies to join them (you don't have to be Baptist); just come and make friends, while enjoying the fellowship.

Those who have been participating are Sylvia Massman, Shirley White, Betty Bart and friend Ruth, Connie McBride, Lula Frost and Becky Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason (Erin) Carter are announcing the birth of Carolyn Jade Carter, who arrived at 10:25 p.m. July 21 at Anderson Hospital in Maryville. She weighed 7 pounds, 6 ounces and was 18 1/2 inches long.

Paternal grandparents are Michael and Becky Davis and great-grandparents are Gus and Laura Lee Falter. Linda Moore is Carolyn's godmother.

The Ruth Class of Calvary Baptist Church held their monthly meeting Aug. 3 at the fellowship hall of the church.

Reports of the July meeting were read by Ruth Dagon, secretary; Pat Wallis, treasurer; and Dorothy Watkins, cheer person. All were appreciated. Prayer requests were given and Bernice Boyer led in prayer. Louise Baker gave a devotional on "Bibles and Buckets." Games were led by Dagon, with prizes going to Dorothy Watkins and Louise Baker.

Bernice Boyer, hostess, served luncheon to those mentioned and another member, Louise Ellis.

Plans for September are to meet and go on to Alfonso's Pizza in Maryville for a pizza meeting.

Maxine Green covers the social scene for the Granite City Press-Record. If you have an item you would like to see in this column, please contact Maxine at 931-6256.

HIV system to help track illness

Identifier plan also aims to protect privacy

By Bethany Behrhorst
Staff writer

An HIV patient code identifier system, which began a trial run this month, should help the Illinois Department of Public Health gauge the spread of the epidemic while protecting privacy.

The department's new "no-name" policy, aimed at getting an accurate measure of HIV cases in the state, began its two-year trial run July 1. The system was established to assist the department in estimating the number of people living with HIV throughout the state and developing ways to prevent potential cases in the future.

"You can have somebody tested more than once, and it's reported as another case rather than just one," said Paula Berry, a registered nurse and assistant administrator with the Madison County Health Department.

Information regarding HIV and AIDS cases is necessary to help determine whether programs are working," Berry said.

Health care providers are required to report all cases for 34 diseases, including measles, tuberculosis and AIDS, to local public health departments. The figures will be used to combat the problem of HIV and AIDS and to plan prevention programs throughout the state.

"It is important to accurately record the number of people living with HIV to determine the level of need for HIV/AIDS health care and other services, to apply for federal funds that are awarded based on the number of HIV/AIDS cases, and to allocate resources for prevention and care programs," said Dr. John R. Lumpkin, state public health director.

Individuals taking part in HIV testing at doctors' offices, hospitals and health departments across the state will be issued identification numbers based on personal bits of information.

Free and anonymous HIV testing sites still will function throughout the state. The state health department estimates that more than 30,000 people in Illinois are infected with HIV. Illinois claims the sixth-highest number of AIDS cases in the United States, with 22,214.

The Wizard of Oz

John Swistak Jr.

Miners Family Players production of "The Wizard of Oz," featuring Collinsville Mayor Stan Schaefer as the Wizard, debuts at 7 p.m. Friday at the historic Miners Theatre in Collinsville. Other performances are scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. The show will also play at 7 p.m. Aug. 20 and 21.

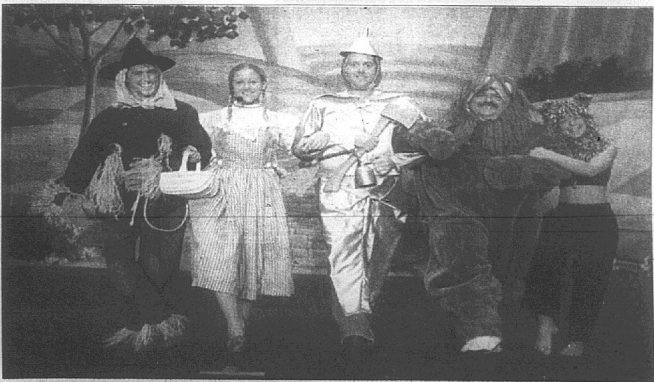

Ding dong the witch is ... well almost dead, Dorothy (Erin Crosby) throws a bucket of water to melt the Wicked Witch of the West (Carol Hodson), as, from left, Toto (Jodi Hertz), Scarecrow (Shain Stroff), Tinman (John Buxton) and the Cowardly Lion (Mark Badasch) look on.

Dorothy (Erin Crosby) meets the munchkin mayor (Andrew Vieluf), center and another munchkin (Taylor Nessel) as she enters Oz.

The Scarecrow (Shain Stroff), Dorothy (Erin Crosby), Tinman (John Buxton), Lion (Mark Badasch) and Toto (Jodi Hertz) skip down the yellow brick road to see the wizard.

Thursday, August 12.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY. The

year ahead might offer you several opportunities to do things on a much larger scale than you have in the past. This could take place both with your social life and your commercial affairs.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

Make the most of your career or financial opportunities today, because you are presently in a favorable cycle for good potential earnings. This doesn't mean you can be a spendthrift, however.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Treat life philosophically when confronted with any obstructions that block your path today and you'll deal with them wisely. The worst thing you could do is allow emotions to enter in.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you are in need of assistance today, just ask companions nicely. The less demanding you are of others, the more willing they'll be to help you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

Reciprocity could become an issue today, so be sure to do so willingly. Don't let it be said of you that you're an eager taker, but a reluctant giver.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) So long as you don't think things will automatically be handed to you on a silver platter, it could be to your advantage today to envision goals a bit grander than usual.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) The early stages of your efforts will reveal that you are a strong opener today. When it comes to closing, however, you may not be as talented.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Should a promising arrangement not come off exactly as you anticipated today, be prepared to make the necessary corrections as they arise and everything will be fine.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

A great opportunity could come your way today, but before you jump on it, take ample time to verify the facts and weigh all the ramifications before cutting a deal.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Be extremely careful from whom you take financial advice today. Although condi-

Mystery Men: above average action-comedy

The heart and soul of "Mystery Men," the comic-book-turned-live-action superhero spoof, is best summed up by a character who suggests using a keg of beer to lure crime-fighting recruits. The reason: There's a big mooch factor among superhero wannabes.

"Mystery Men" tells the story of all those closet caped crusaders who have watched "Superman" and "Batman" and privately, very privately, imagined how cool it would be to have X-ray eyes and a really souped-up roadster.

The seven odd scrappers of "Mystery Men" actually take their fight to the streets, acting out in goofy earnestness and goofier dress as they seek to get a little glory while sending bad guys to the hoosegow. They fight evil with unlikely tools - bowling balls and shovels, fury, forks and flatulence.

William H. Macy, Ben Stiller, Hank Azaria, Janeane Garofalo, Paul Reubens and Kel Mitchell in a scene from the Universal Pictures release, "Mystery Men."

This gang is way south of motley.

The result is an average dose of action and a somewhat above-average dose of comedy that blend into an engaging bit of dorkiness. Imagine "Star Trek" fans with bad plastic ears and armored breastplates made of floor mats who manage to obtain a secondhand starship and you'll have an idea of how this band fits into the superhero pantheon.

The premise: Champion City has been virtually swept clean of crime by resident demigod Captain Amazing, who finds himself losing commercial endorsements and fears he may put himself out of a job without a good nemesis. His 9-to-5 persona, a billionaire who brilliantly conceals his identity with a pair of eyeglasses, intercedes to spring archrival Casanova Frankenstein from the loonybin.

When Casanova captures Captain Amazing, the "Mystery Men" bumble in to save the city from the madman.

The charter "Mystery Men" are three old friends who have unsuccessfully dabbled in crime-fighting for years. There's the Shoveler (William H. Macy), who wears a mining helmet and conks opponents with a spade; the Blue Raja (Hank Azaria), who hurls cutlery; and Mr. Furious (Ben Stiller), whose strength comes from his really bad temper.

With Casanova enlisting the aid of such gangs as the Frat Boys and the Disco Boys, the "Mystery Men" beef up their ranks. They recruit the Bowler (Janeane Garofalo), out to avenge her father's murder with a bowling ball that has Dad's skull inside; the Spleen (Paul Reubens), armed with pinpoint intestinal gas; Invisible Boy (Kel Mitchell), who can vanish, but only when no one's looking; and the Sphinx (Wes Studi), a platitude-spewing enigma who cuts guns in half with his mind.

The movie is given the obligatory Gotham City look, dark and dreamlike, with most of the action taking place at night.

There's a chopppiness to "Mystery Men" that might result from first-time director Kinka Usher's work on TV

Fall bowling leagues starting soon

America's most popular participatory sport attracts 84 million yearly

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

Polish the ball, dust the bag and get ready to hit the lanes. Fall bowling leagues will start at the end of the month.

According to statistics from the Bowling Hall of Fame in St. Louis, this year, about 84 million people nationwide will participate in league play or recreational bowling at nearly 10,000 bowling establishments.

Bowling is America's most popular participatory sport, representing people of all age groups, races, religions and economic stratas, Hall of Fame statistics show.

"It's a game that has no physical barriers and everybody can enjoy," said Charlie Price, manager of Bowland Lanes in Granite City. Sounds of balls rumbling and rolling down hardwood floors and those of pins smashing against pin-deck areas will be heard at bowling centers in the Metro East when the leagues begin around Aug. 26. Bowlers from all over the area hope to shoot a big game or two before the season ends.

"I bowled a 245 last year. I want to beat that game this year, even if it's by one pin," said Tammy Russel, who bowls in a women's league at Camelot Bowl in Collinsville.

About 1,900 bowlers at Bowland Lanes will participate in 34 leagues on the center's 32 lanes. They are members of the men's, women's, senior's, mixed and junior leagues. The casual, care-free rollers will have an opportunity to lace up for Friday night moonlight and country bowling events.

"Not everybody is a league bowler. These are fun ways they can bowl without competition," said Pam Cahill, bowling director at Bowland.

At Montclair Bowl in Edwardsville, 24 lanes will be the center for about 750 league bowlers. In addition, youths from junior leagues and couples from mixed leagues will take to the lanes. Each Friday night the facility will host Rock 'N' Roll bowling as alleys will glow and lights will flicker to the music of a D.J.

Nell Bateman, manager of the bowling establishment, said bowling at all levels and events spurs camaraderie and brings laughter.

"It's a fun-filled game where people come together for a night out," Bateman said.

About 3,900 bowlers from Camolet Bowl will take part in 42 leagues. Fifteen from the center shot perfect 300 games last year, proving that one doesn't have to possess the skills of Dick Weber or Nelson Burton Jr. to shoot that magical, usually elusive 300. The youngest person to do so was a 10-year-old boy.

Other interesting tidbits from the Hall of Fame include the following:

1902: Ernest Fosberg of Rockford became the first bowler to roll an ABC approved 300 game in five-man league play.

1905: First commercially successful hard rubber ball is manufactured at 16 pounds. Previous balls were made of hardwood or stone.

1946: AMF developed first operating automatic pinssetters

1959: Professional Bowlers Association founded.

1981: Ladies Professional Bowlers tour formed

1997: Jeremy Sonnenfield of Sioux Falls, S.D. became the first person in a tournament to bowl 900. It occurred in Lincoln, Neb.

Mystery Men

commercial. At times, the movie comes off as a series of brief set pieces, such as a scene in which a skunk gets friendly with the Spleen's leg. These bits are funny unto themselves, but do not add to the whole.

Still, there's enough good cheer to make "Mystery Men" worthwhile. With an affected British accent, Azaria plays the Blue Raja to the pompous hilt but is at his funniest when he lapses into "Aww, Ma" whininess after his mother enters his incense-choked room without knocking.

The ever-funny Garofalo charms while arguing with her father's Ebonite-encased skull. Macy assumes the hang-dog manner that served him so well in "Fargo" and "Pleasantville" as he tells his wife about his need to go into the night and "shovel" away crime.

And the superhero recruiting party is a gem. Showing up in capes, eraser-hats, tutus and other outrageous attire are Ballerina, Squeegee, Supercan and PMS Avenger (she only works four days a month; you got a problem with that?).

Academy Award-winning Geoffrey Rush ("Shine") hurls himself into the silly role of Casanova. In a thick accent of indeterminate origin, he gleefully corrects Captain Amazing's pronunciation and tells the Frat Boys that, yes, they can bring their beer along to watch the superhero's demise.

Greg Kinnear has a small but delightful role as the publicity-mad Amazing, whose pumped-up costume is adorned with enough ads and logos to shame a race car owner.

Based on the Dark Horse Comics series, "Mystery Men" essentially is a live-action cartoon. In a small way, though, the movie does offer some commentary about the lunatic fringers who crave herodom so badly they lose themselves in the dream.

Runaway Bride: enjoyable formula film

Great casting, genuinely funny scenes but just another romantic comedy

Last year Julia Roberts was desperately seeking to sabotage her best friend's wedding. This summer she's walking out on her own nuptials—four of them.

"Runaway Bride" offers that far-fetched but amusing premise, and a sterling group of actors play it to the hilt. Long a purveyor of sitcoms, director Garry Marshall knows how to make even the most trivial of scenes pay off in terms of laughs.

Marshall is reunited with Roberts and Richard Gere, his stars of the 1990 hit "Pretty Woman," in which she played a Hollywood Boulevard hooker, and he was her wealthy customer. This time she runs a hardware store in a Maryland hamlet, and he writes a newspaper column so misogynistic that old ladies belt him on the streets of New York City.

Stuck for a column idea, Gere retires to his favorite bar where he regularly finds inspiration. A barfly tells him the tale of a Maryland lass who has made multiple escapes at the altar, once on horseback. Gere writes the column, with much embellishment.

Too much, it turns out. The hotshot reporter checked none of his facts and invented his own. That prompts his editor (Rita Wilson), who also happens to be his ex-wife, to fire him.

Gere wheedles a magazine assignment for a followup, and he sets out for Hale, Md., vengeance in his eye.

"Kazaaam! I'm in Mayberry!" he mutters to himself on arrival.

He immerses himself in the small-town culture, much to the irritation of Roberts. (Rule No. 1 of romantic comedies: Boy and girl must be at odds until the final reel.)

Waiting for the final clinch can grow wearisome, but Marshall and the screenwriters (Josann McGibbon and Sara Parriott) supply enough diversions to keep things lively. They never adequately explain the heroine's aversion to saying the words "I do." (Rule No. 2: Do not seek logic in a romantic comedy.)

"Runaway Bride" gives Julia Roberts a chance to test her unsuspected talent for knockabout comedy, and she has never been so lively. Gere uses his eye-blinking charm in a not altogether sympathetic role.

Among those playing the townspeople of Hale (actually Berlin, Md.), Joan Cusack stands out as the bride's buddy, along with Paul Dooley as her father, and Christopher Meloni as one of the rejected husbands. Wilson and Hector Elizondo hold their own on the New York end.

"Runaway Bride" is a joint production of Paramount Pictures and Disney's Touchstone Pictures, which may help explain why seven people are listed as producers and executive producers. The rating is PG but it might as well be G. Running time: 116 minutes, which could have been trimmed of the anticlimactic ending.

Who said that? Quotable trivia

By Kevin Carbery
Staff writer

I wonder how long it took before his friends wanted to strangle Benjamin Franklin.

He was a brilliant man with many, many accomplishments. He was extremely quotable, as a look at almost any compilation of famous sayings will prove.

That's the problem, however. With Franklin sitting around making statements such as "He that won't be counseled can't be helped" and "Diligence is the mother of good luck," his friends were bound to become irritated.

He undoubtedly heard "Blow it out your ear, Ben!" or its colonial equivalent quite a few times in his life.

Another person who often pops up in quotation books is Mark Twain. However, it seems to me that hearing the biting wit of Samuel Clemens would be more interesting than listening to Franklin's platitudes. Clemens was the Don Rickles of his day, lashing out at all around him.

As I am a major fan of sports, I am also familiar with what Casey Stengel and Yogi Berra have been quoted as saying. Most of the quotes are funny, but, especially with Berra, you have to wonder which of the statements attributed to him are actually his and which were made up by writers.

From the show business world, people such as Bette Davis and Woody Allen appear in numerous anthologies of quotes. Davis shows up because of her propensity for caustic comments and Allen appears with his humorous one-liners.

There are all kinds of nasty and entertaining quotations that have come out of politics.

Horoscopes

tions pertaining to your earning power are very favorable, they're not foolproof.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Socially, you could be outstandingly successful today, yet complications could set in which you might have to get past. It's possible it'll be a money problem.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Try to keep in mind that persons who are pertinent to your plans can be led, but they cannot be pushed or manipulated today. Have faith in your ideas and others will too.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Don't count on anyone today with whom you've previously had trouble. Stick to the tried and true to come through for you, whether they are associates or close friends.

Horoscopes have no basis in scientific fact and should be read for amusement only.

Trivia

Those in office are the targets of abuse every day and much of what is said is amusing, if not always accurate.

For this week's trivia quiz, the topic is famous quotes. All of those mentioned in the quiz are names frequently found in quotation collections.

1. "Obscenity can be found in every book except the telephone directory" is from which author?

2. What author wrote "Men seldom make passes at girls who wear glasses"?

3. Which politician said, "I never give them hell. I just tell the truth and they think it's hell"?

4. "I hope we never live to see the day when a thing is as bad as some of our newspapers make it," is from what humorist?

5. "Bachelors know more about women than married men; if they didn't, they'd be married, too," is from which newspaperman?

6. What humorist said "The only reason I would take up jogging is so I could hear heavy breathing again"?

7. "Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits" is a quote from which inventor?

8. "Democracy is the government of the people, by the people, for the people" is from what political figure?

9. "The first half of our lives is ruined by our parents, and the second half by our children" is from which noted lawyer?

10. Who said, "When women go wrong, men go right after them"?

ANSWERS: 1. George Bernard Shaw. 2. Dorothy Parker. 3. Harry Truman. 4. Will Rogers. 5. H.L. Mencken. 6. Erma Bombeck. 7. Thomas Edison. 8. Abraham Lincoln. 9. Clarence Darrow. 10. Mae West.

I will host the following upcoming trivia events: St. Louis Community College at Meramec Alumni Association Trivia on Saturday, Oct. 2, call 984-7551.

Kevin Carbery can be heard as a regular on "The Entertainment and Trivia Show" at 10 p.m. Sundays on KMOX Radio (1120 AM).

'Sixth Sense' tops box office

"The Sixth Sense" had good fortune for its opening weekend as the Bruce Willis thriller knocked off a bride and a witch to lead the box office competition, according to estimates Sunday.

"Sixth Sense" collected $25.8 million to make it the highest-grossing movie ever to open in August, surpassing "The Fugitive," which took in $23.7 million in 1993.

The low-budget horror hit "The Blair Witch Project" maintained its number two spot with $24.5 million, while "Runaway Bride" dropped from first place to third with $21 million.

"Sixth Sense" managed to rise above a clutter of other premieres, including "The Thomas Crown Affair," the Pierce Brosnan-Rene Russo remake of the Steve McQueen-Faye Dunaway crime caper. It opened at number four with $14.6 million.

"I guess it's a testament to Bruce Willis. His drawing power is still very strong," said Paul Dergarabedian, president of Exhibitor Relations Co. Inc., which tracks the box office.

Among other debuts, the superhero comic-book spoof "Mystery Men" premiered in sixth place with $10 million.

"Iron Giant," an animated film about a robot who falls to Earth, took in $5.7 million to debut at number nine.

"Dick," a satiric retelling of the Watergate scandal through the antics of Nixon's teen-age dog-walkers and secret advisers, came in a disappointing 11th with $2.2 million in its first weekend, for a total of $3.4 million since opening Wednesday.

"Star Wars: Episode I - The Phantom Menace" finally dropped out of the top 10 after 11 weeks. It came in at number 12 with $2.2 million, for a domestic total of $412.8 million.

Hispanic Fair set for weekend of August 14

By Jim Merkel
Staff writer

A big taste of south-of-the-border culture is ahead next weekend at the Greater St. Louis Annual Hispanic Fair at Jefferson Barracks Park.

Now in its fourth year, the fair on Aug. 14-15 will feature performers from St. Louis and elsewhere, food and other activities geared at projecting the flavor of Hispanic culture. It will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days, with a festive opening ceremony at noon Aug. 14.

Haniny Hillberg, president of Hispanic Festival Inc., of Greater St. Louis, said the purpose of the fair is "to show the richness of our culture" and "to bring the whole community together under one umbrella."

She mentioned there now are about 20,000 Hispanics living in the St. Louis area.

In past years, 20,000 people have attended the fair, which is presented by Hispanic Festival Inc. of Greater St. Louis, the St. Louis County Department of Parks and Recreation and the Regional Arts Commission.

"We're very excited about the entertainment this year," Hillberg said.

The biggest-name entertainer will be Jade Esteban Estrada, a pop singer who has performed in six languages and 23 countries. He recently began his "Twist Time '99" tour of Mexico, Central and South America and Europe promoting his hit single, "Reggae Twist." He will perform from 5:40 to 6:40 p.m. both days.

From 2 to 4 p.m. Aug. 14, Javier Mendoza of St. Louis, a pop singer popular throughout the Midwest, will entertain. Later that day, from 7 to 9 p.m., Merenbanda, considered the best salsa/merengue band in Chicago, will be on stage.

The Ruby Band, providing Mexican-style music, will perform from 7 to 9 p.m. Aug. 15. And Latinos Romanticos will play music from South America and romantic songs from the '50s and '60s from 11 a.m. to noon and 12:45 to 1:30 p.m. Aug. 14, as well as from 3:20 to 4:20 p.m. and 4:40 to 5:40 p.m. Aug. 15.

Hispanic Cultural Dancers will perform from 5:20 to 5:40 p.m. Aug. 14 and 2 to 2:20 p.m. Aug. 15.

Among the other features will be folkloric dancers from Mexico, South America and the Caribbean; Paso Fino Horse Show; arts and crafts; a children's pavilion; information booths and door prizes.

There will be a $3 parking fee at the park. For more information, call the Hispanic Festival Inc., at 837-6100.
